All Because

It's His'n

The following from the pen of the late Frank Aley, is reproduced as an interesting tribute to a character found in every mining camp-

He lives in Tombstone. They are not all like him. Thank Heaven, he is scarce, but occasionally you find

He has just nine claims, to-wit: the Bull Pup, the Rawhide Extension of the Glia Monster, the Rattler, the Tarantula, the Tugawala, the Howler, the Lead Pipe Ciuch, the Holy Fright

d the Keely Cure. Now this old Lizzard learns after reading the columns of the Kicker laboriously in the absence of his specs that a party of capitalists will arrive in Tombstone on a certain day and at an appointed hour, and he shines his shoes with stove polish and comes to town and crucifies them one

He has nine eight-foot holes, on these nine claims, each and every one of which is in imaculate limestone, un-tarnished by any suggestion of copper, unaccompanied by the slightest association with iron, unsullied by the remotest relation to gold, silver, lead, tungsten, or bismuth, incompar-able in its superb isolation from the contaminating influence of any known

When he meets these polished gentlemen, their hereditary notion of civility requires them to stand nailed to the cross while he explains, how, in the first place, that trend, contact or the first place, that trend, contact or dyke, as the case may be, can be plainly traced from the diaphrragm of the Tombstone Consolidated, right under his virtuous shack, fifty-two miles away, and how he has the same identical variety of blossoom in bis back yard that they have on the Emer-sid, and how, in addition to favorable indications, he is accurately astride of the mighty copper belt which starts out in Cananea, hobs up in the Huach-neas, blooms forth gloriously in Bis-bee, lifts its head in the lower workings of the Tombstone Consolidated, takes an underground run to Morenel, sidesteps to Globe and ends up in the wholesale business in Jerome.

All this time the next fellow who owns ten ciaims seventy-five miles away at diametrical right angles to this belt, can easily twist it around to accommodate the theory that he is squarely in the middle of it. This he can do as easily as an ostrict can swallow a souvenir spoon.

Now this individual is dumbfounded and broken-hearted because the mighty man in the Panama hat does not break his neck, rushing out to see that "property" on his represen-

He is sure that if the party could only "lay eyes" on his ground, he could not make the papers out fast

At times he has a notion to kidnap, hog tie and conduct some mighty man of means out to that ground just knowing that he would be rewarded for his daring and fruitthe kidnapee, along with a leap year proposal from the millionaire's eldest daughter.

But to the investor, the manner in which that poor copper helt has been kinked and twisted and bent and shrunk and stretched by turns can only be explained on the theory of

Had not copper been distinguished from its maleability and tension three ity, that poor little belt would have been twisted in twain a thousand times from its maleability and tensile tenac

They can trace that belt from the portals of Paradise to the hatches of perdition, from altitudes below sea level to elevations so majestic that their hoary summits, you could the toes of the man in the moon with a broom stick; from temperature that would give a polar bear rigor mortis to localities where the p ropector melts and runs out of his over-alls, and his only wail is "If I could fact is, he might bore until the pent up calora of the infernal regions melted the diamond in his drill bit, and until he broke surface in some Chinese tea garden on the antipodes, and he would still be in limestone, immaculate, immutable, indestructable and everlasting.

This particular variety of prospector fading out, and his presence no longer rests like an overpowering in-cubus on the bosom of the mining in-dustry, but such of his class as re-main, are distinguished for superlative patience, persistence and volubil-ity coupled with a conspicuous aver-sion to physical training.

sion to physical training.

He bores and disgusts sound mining men and is the cause of quaran-tining more capital from our mining field than is stored up in any sub-treasury in the United States.

FRIDAY, APRIL 29

Much interest has been manifested n court over the trial of the Rodgers case by season of the prominence of the prisoner at Nogales and the determined defense made. Rodgers was charged with importing an alien Mexican woman from Mexico for immoral purposes. The prosecution introduced conclusive evidence and the delense combatted same with much energy. The arguments were had last night and the court room was crowded with listeners, Assistant U S Attorney Forest opened the case with a brief statement of the case followed by Senator Ives for the defense, The Senator made a strong plea, following a theory and recital of the case, interspersed with elequent version. U S Attorney Morrison closed and made an argument that was most telling and direct. His imesseioned oratory, the marshaling of the facts adduced at the trial, the exceriation of the prisoner and vivid picture of the abuses wrought, the appeal to the higher instincts and enforcement of the law, were forcibly presented and left an effectual impress on jury and auditors slike. The case was submitted to the jury at 10 o'clock

At I o'clock this afternoon the jury returned a verdict in the Rodgers case of guilty as charged in the indictment and commend the prisoner to the mercy of the court.

The maximum penalty is five years and a fine. The prisoner will be arreigned and sentenced at 9.30 a m The U S trial jury was excused for the term, the U S trial jury cases having all been passed upon. In the case of the Territory vs.

F W Arndt, charged with receiving stolen property, the defendant was arraigned and plead not guilty. He was released on former bond pending setting of case. D L Cunningham presents the defendant. The Territorial grand jury are still Waddell is 22 years of age He weighs more than 200 pounds and is youth of fine appearance but of little experience. He said yesterday that this was his first journey away from home. He had been born in the part of the country where he had always lived. He had heard that there were such things in the world as street cars but he never saw one until he arrived in Phoenix.

Marquer, the murderer of P. B. Hodges on the desert some distance from Yums last June, was brought in by Deputy Sheriff Riley of Yuma county, accompanied by M. Polhamus. a brother-in-law of the murdered man. Marquez will be taken to Florence this morning and will be hanged there on May 17.

Cochise County

Cattle Moving

Cattle shipments from all parts of Cochise county this year will be larger, perhaps, than for any year in the history of the county. The increased price offered by buyers will take about all the cattle available for shipment. Shipments from Willcox, Douglas, Benson, Hereford and other loading points started this week. Besides the cattle from this county many are coming from Mexico for shipment from Hereford, Naco and Douglas. The International says yesterday Frank Moson, of the Greene Cattle company, shipped 900 head from Hereford. Among those who have already made shipments from Douglas are B. A. Packard (cattle from Mexico). Pete Johnson, J. T. Hood, Hysham & Neel, John Hobstadt and M. M. Sherman (cattle from Mexico. Tim Bievins will ship 1,300 head on Saturday. Other heavy shipments will continue for several weeks before all the orders have been filled, Hysham & Neel expecting to oad a train tomorrow from Douglas.

None, however, are more deserving of public encomium than W. T. Cooper of Dos Cabezas who surged through turbulent Apache lines thirty-two years ago and erected monuments on ground that he contipues to hold in the northern section of Cochise county today. Mr. Cooper is referred to especially for having placed an abiding faith in the Dos Cabezas district and developed the prospects to that extent that capital has gone in and acquired some very desirable holdings-72 mining claims in one group-and the Mascot Copper company is recognized as one of the strong institutions of Arizona. The management of the company is represented by some of the most capable and cautious mining men of the southwest, notably among whom is Captain Tibbey as consulting engineer, who bears an enviable reputation as such from Montana and other big mining centers. The Mascot mine is equipped with every modern accessory to the thorough and economical deve opment of a mining property, a distinctive feature being the 250 H. Every League

Member Hustling

Since the appoundement of the First National Convention pext month, and the fact that each member who puts forth a slight effort toward increasing the membership in the local chapter and the league will be given a trip to St. Louis, with all expenses paid, has set members to work, so that the completion of the chapter, or club house requirement is now a matter of a few days. Memberehip applications have been received in the past few days at such a rapid rate that most of the members are of the opinion that 75 members can now easily be secured, entitling the local chapter to a class 3 ($4,000) Chapter House. Since all the other women's organizations have now become greatly interested in the league movement a higher class Chapter House is a possibility. A board of regents has been created by the league consisting of a regent from each of the 45 states and territories. The local chapter has already nominated one of its mem'ers for state regent, who if successful will naturally bring the Arizona headquarters of the American Woman's League to Tomb-
